

The most important seminar you might ever take...

The Law of Self-Defense

EVENT DETAILS

WHERE: Holiday Inn Center
City, 230 N. College St.,
Charlotte, NC 28202,
704.335.5400, Mint Ballroom

WHEN: Saturday, June 21,
2014 from 11:00 AM to 3:00
PM (please arrive at 10:45 AM)

Enroll Before June 7 & Save!

COST: $120 (or $130.75
including "Law of Self-Defense" book) until June 7, then $150 (or $160.75
w/book)

Why you absolutely need 'The Law of Self-Defense'

After reading Andrew Branca's book and hearing him speak at a luncheon, we knew that anyone who keeps a firearm for self-defense absolutely must hear what he has to say about avoiding pitfalls that could land you in prison, so we asked him to teach a seminar at GRNC's "Celebrating Twenty Years of Victory" annual meeting.

As a lawyer, IDPA Master-class competitor, firearms instructor and internationally recognized self-defense expert published in The Wall Street Journal and elsewhere, Branca dispels myths surrounding how you may or may not legally defend yourself and your family using deadly force, and shows how you could inadvertently end up in prison.

What the NRA's "First Freedom" magazine says about Branca's book:

"Since most gun owners are so law-abiding that they have no personal experience with the criminal justice process, Branca gives an overview of the crimes that may be charged in a self-defense case [including] what to expect from an investigative and judicial process in which 'none of the people who will have been put in control of your fate will understand what it was like at that desperate moment.'"

Engaging students with scenario-driven applications of the legal principles governing the law of self-defense, Branca's seminar illustrates how the law of self-defense is applied in real court cases involving real people.

What you will learn from "The Law of Self-Defense":

- Criminal Justice Pipeline — What to Expect
- Five Principles of the Law of Self-Defense
- Defense of Others
- Defense of Property
- After the Fact/Interacting with Law Enforcement

The Law of Self-Defense Seminar is valid for 4.0 credits of continuing legal education (CLE) for North Carolina attorneys for an extra fee of $40. To obtain CLE credit, first purchase seminar here, then pay extra $40 at: <http://lawofselfdefense.com/shop/>